My name is Kristin McRiley, I have known Annie Santillan for over 35 years. I have been through work, family, and friendship with her. Annie has flourished in life, and I am so proud of her accomplishments. I have worked for Annie's Bail Bond business since 2009. Watching her growth and strength to build a business from the ground up, learn about it, and nurture it for knowledge and wisdom. She is a good friend, a great person, an incredible mother, and each of those attributes go into her work ethics. Annie doesn't "just go to work", or "open a business" she literally reads about the details of the profession, she researches as much as she can so that she can be a hands on business owner. I have been extremely fortunate to witness the growth that Annie has experienced since we were teenagers. I would and will always know that I could count on Annie if I needed anything. I look forward to working with her on this next chapter in her life. I am so proud of her.
